1. A Joint Residency: Multi-Media Musicians Take to the Barracks Aug 8-21

Natalie Sappier and Nate Miller are two multi-media artists who will begin a musical two-week residency in Fredericton's Soldiers' Barracks.

Samaqani Cocaqh, also known as Natalie Sappier, is a Wolastoq multi-disciplinary artist who comes from Tobique First Nation. Her work is influenced by her people and she carries sacred teachings through storytelling. She shares her journeys of ancestral roots and life in modern times. Sappier will collaborate with artist Nate Miller to create contemporary electronic music with the merging of Aboriginal influence, and with the community she will share spontaneous creativity inspired by people, culture, nature, and healing. Sappier believes that art speaks all languages. "Stories break down walls and natural comfort starts to exist. When artists are in that room [the casemate], creativity is likely to be born."

Nate Miller is a recording artist and professional drummer who founded Emanate 7 Productions in 2007. He has been involved in underground music scenes throughout Canada and now lives in Fredericton. Since being here, Miller promotes drum circles, instructs hand-drumming, and leads various spiritual drumming events. He also produces CDs for new age and healing artists. Miller says that he and Natalie "would like to perform our work at the casemate [at the Soldiers' Barracks]. We could play what we created last year [during their 2015 residency] and create new music" as well. Miller recently became a Canadian citizen despite having lived all over the country for the past 30 years. Fredericton is his newest home of about 8 years. Says Miller: "Samaqani and I like to open our ears to all cultural musical influences."

Sappier and Miller recently performed at Fredericton's City Hall on National Aboriginal Day on June 21. The duo will be performing and creating new music at the Soldiers' Barracks for two weeks, from August 8 - 21. The Fredericton Arts Alliance's casemate is open daily: Monday-Saturday from 10am to 5pm and Sunday from 12 to 5pm. Back to top.

With more than 20 major awards to its credit, and an Oscar winning film version starring Madonna and Antonio Banderas, Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's Evita is iconic. Featuring some of the best loved songs in musical theatre, including "Don't Cry For Me Argentina", "On This Night of a Thousand Stars", "You Must Love Me", and "Another Suitcase in Another Hall", Evita charts the story of Eva Peron, wife of former Argentine dictator Juan Peron, from her humble beginnings through to the extraordinary wealth, power and status which ultimately led her to be heralded as the 'spiritual leader of the nation'.

9. Watercolour, Oil, Portraits, and Open-Air Painting in Historic Garrison District Aug 22-28

Two Fredericton painters will be working with the theme of New Ground as they explore what 'home' means in relation to new places.

Derek Davidson is a mostly self-taught artist. He paints with acrylics and creates pen and watercolour sketches, often painting in the open-air. He also produces portraits and paintings about people, activities, and sports. Derek will be in residence for one week, during which he will paint in the studio with acrylic paints and connect with the community by painting outdoors in the Barracks area. The public will be able to witness open-air art being created on canvas and in the painter's sketchbook. He has some travel sketches which depict buildings and nature. Throughout the years, and through art, Davidson has noticed that people are basically the same, and he believes that people are the ones to bring buildings and nature to life.

Bess Forrestall returns to the Barracks for a second week to continue painting with the theme of New Ground. Forrestall's practice explores the idea of 'place' as the intersection between memory and space, or the association of past memories with physical places that she has been to. She plans to engage the public by asking about their experiences of this intersection. While in residence, Bess will be drawing in graphite and painting in oil. She has recently returned to Fredericton after living away for three years, and has spent the last six months in Jaipur, India, so she understands what it's like to be away from home. She will be furthering the progress on her current body of work which explores experiences of living in an unfamiliar place and the experience of returning home, which tie in perfectly with this summer's theme, New Ground.

Derek and Bess will be at the Soldiers' Barracks from August 22 - 28. The Fredericton Arts Alliance's casemate is open daily: Monday-Saturday from 10am to 5pm and Sunday from 12 to 5pm. The Artist in Residence program is run by the Fredericton Arts Alliance and continues until September 5, 2016. Back to top.

2. 2016 Writing for Babies Call for Manuscripts & Call for an Expression of Interest from Illustrators

As part of our ongoing involvement with early childhood literacies in New Brunswick, the Early Childhood Centre at the University of New Brunswick is sponsoring a province-wide, English-language Writing for Babies manuscript search. The winner will have their manuscript illustrated by a New Brunswick illustrator. 6,000 copies will be printed for distribution through the Born to Read programme in 2017. A $3,000 award, constituting an advance royalty fee, will be awarded to the winning author. The winning book will land in the laps of thousands of New Brunswick newborns over the next year.

Guidelines for Call for Visual Artists/Illustrators:

In conjunction with the call for manuscripts, the jury is calling for an expression of interest from visual artists and illustrators who wish to illustrate a children’s book. Illustrators should forward website links and/or copies of their work for consideration by the jury. Please include full contact information. Should you wish to make a submission by mail, please send copies of your work. PLEASE NOTE: We are unable to return submissions.

Once the winning manuscript is selected, the jury may invite illustrator(s) to submit a sample illustration fitting the winning text. The jury will select an illustrator for the book. A $3,000 award, constituting a royalty fee advance, will be awarded to the winning illustrator.

Guidelines for Call for Manuscripts:

This contest is open to current residents of New Brunswick. All manuscripts will be blind juried and the winning author will be notified within 45 days of the submission deadline. The intended audience of the book is for babies from birth to age two; and not older children. We are interested in lively and engaging content with rhythmic, poetic language, or softly soothing lullabies. Playful language, cleverly exploring the sound and sense of language using assonance, rhyme, word plays such as doublets and rhythm are important when writing for babies.

Please avoid writing the story to a parent, constructing a narrative over a baby's lifetime, or constructing a story that is aimed at teaching a child a lesson.

In its final form the book will be 20 pages, starting with a single page, followed by 9 facing page sets, and completed by a single page. For submission purposes, and to save trees, please use a storyboard style so all the text is numbered by page number on a 1; 2 - 3; 4 - 5; etc., page spread. Please see the attached example.

Submission Format for Manuscripts:

- Manuscripts must be original and not previously published or submitted elsewhere.
- The manuscript should contain no reference to the name of the author. The book will be 20 pages in length with approximately 10 - 25 words per page, or fewer where appropriate. Pages must be numbered as per the storyboard attached. Submit text only please, no illustrations. Storyboard format is recommended.
- Each submission requires a cover sheet with the name of the author, full contact information (surface mail, email, phone number, and fax number where applicable), and the title of the book.
- Entries must be submitted by August 31, 2016.
- Please retain your original manuscript and send us copies only.
- There is no need to send suggested illustrations as an illustrator will be selected for the winning manuscript.

Submission Procedure:

Two hard copies of each manuscript should be submitted via surface mail to:

Writing for Babies
Early Childhood Centre
University of New Brunswick
PO Box 4400
Fredericton, NB E3B 5A3

PLEASE NOTE:

- Should jury members feel that the quality of submissions do not meet a minimum standard, no winner will be announced.
- Preference will be given to writers and illustrators whose work has not been previously published through the Writing for Babies Contest sponsored by the UNB Early Childhood Centre and Born to Read NB.
- There is a possibility that we may use the text and illustrations for use in digital media. For example, an online version of the book or mobile applications.
- Once the author and illustrator have been selected, an editor and art director will be an integral part of the process.
