1. Theatre UNB Presents Cats, Cockatoos, and Caca: Two Plays by Eugene Ionesco Nov 30-Dec 2

Theatre UNB is set to stage a double-bill of one-act comedies by the renowned pioneer and master of the Theatre of the Absurd, Eugene Ionesco. In Jack, or the Submission a family is thrown into turmoil over their son's disdain for hashed brown potatoes and his obstinate rejection of the bride they have chosen for him, on the grounds that she is not ugly enough and does not have enough noses. In The Bald Soprano, a hilariously dull evening between the Smiths and their even more painfully boring dinner guests, the Martins, is enlivened by a visit from the Fire Chief, and stories, romance, and surprises galore ensue.

In the strange, funny, and surreal world of Ionesco, things are never quite what they seem. Logic and reason operate only fleetingly, under new rules, language breaks down, and words are reinvented.

Directed by Len Falkenstein, Cats, Cockatoos, and Caca will be performed by a cast of twelve Theatre UNB students, and will be performed nightly from Thursday, November 30 through Saturday, December 2 at 7:30pm nightly at Memorial Hall. Tickets are $14 regular, $10 seniors and underemployed, and $8 for students. They are available at the door. For more information, phone 506-447-3078 or email lfalken@unb.ca. Back to top.

2. The Sublime Mastery of Still Life by Joseph Plaskett & Christmas Choice open at Gallery 78 Dec 1

Joseph Plaskett is a renowned, honoured Canadian painter whose work will be featured at Gallery 78 beginning December 1. Plaskett's work has been widely collected by individuals, corporations, and major public galleries, including the National Gallery of Canada. His images are eternal in their simplicity, timeless in their subject, and universal in their concerns. Each work expresses a warm humanity, and reveals the artist's mastery of light, form, and colour. This collection of never before seen still life pastels from his Estate offers us an opportunity to slow down and be still; to wonder about the seemingly simplest of things in life.

Simultaneously, Gallery 78's annual Christmas Choice exhibition includes a plethora of small treasures, from paintings to pastel and pencil drawings, holiday inspired porcelain, ceramics, jewellery, sculpture and a wide variety of original multiple prints. The selection is varied to suit all tastes and budgets.

Gallery 78 is located at 796 Queen Street. It is open Tuesday to Friday 10am-5pm, Saturday 10am-3pm, Sunday 1-4pm, or visit virtually at: www.gallery78.com. Back to top. odd sundays will continue on Sunday, December 3 at Corked Wine Bar, located at 83 Regent Street. We are pleased to offer something different on this afternoon: our guest readers will be Jean-Phillippe Raïche and Jo-Anne Elder, and their work will be a combination of English, French, and the translation between the two. Come along for the start at 2pm, and greet your friends, say hello to Charlotte, get a book draw ticket and add your name to the open mic set.

Jo-Anne Elder is a writer, translator, and community worker. She has translated over twenty books of poetry, theatre, film, fiction, and non-fiction, of which three were shortlisted for a Governor General's prize: Beatitudes by Herménégilde Chiasson, One by Serge Patrice Thibodeau, and Tales from Dog Island: St. Pierre & Miquelon by Françoise Enguehard. Her collection of flash fiction, Postcards from Ex-Lovers (Broken Jaw Press, 2005), won the WFNB's inaugural David Adams Richards Prize. She is currently translating Chiasson's first poetry collection (To Live and Die in Scoudouc) and is working on a new novel.

An Acadian poet born in 1970, Jean-Phillippe Raïche explores collective destiny, exile, drifting, and displacement in his work. The sense of being uprooted is synonymous with the human condition, and the lover's body is the only home and refuge. He has studied at the Université de Moncton, the Universities of Montreal, McGill and Paris VII. Perce-Neige published his Une Lettre au bout du monde in 2001 and Ne réveillez pas l'amour avant qu'elle ne le veuille in 2007 (winner of the Aliénor prize and the Louise-Labé prize, two important awards in France).

16. Monday Night Film Series presents The Divine Order (Dec 4) & The Other Side of Hope (Dec 11)

December 4, 2017 7:30pm at Tilley Hall, UNB Campus

The Divine Order

96 mins

Switzerland, 2017

German, English, Italian, Swiss German w/ English subtitles

Principal Cast: Marie Leuenberger, Maximilian Simonischek, Rachel Braunschweig

Switzerland, 1971: Nora is a young housewife and mother who lives with her husband and their two sons in a peaceful little village. Here, in the Swiss countryside, little or nothing is felt of the huge social upheavals that the movement of May 1968 has caused. Nora's life, too, has been unaffected; she is a retiring, quiet person, well-liked by everyone - until she begins to campaign publicly and pugnaciously for women's right to vote, an issue that will be put before the male voters on February 7, 1971

The long-fought battle for women's suffrage in America ended in 1920, but it wasn't until 1971 that Switzerland granted its female population the right to vote. The Divine Order revisits this fight for equality through the fictional lens of a housewife in one of the country's remote villages, where her mounting desire for autonomy and actualization is opposed by backward-thinking cretins of both genders. Petra Volpe's cine-history lesson remains a mainstream crowd-pleaser adept at inspiring and amusing in equal measure.

No prior knowledge of Switzerland's political evolution is necessary, and thanks to its director's sturdy guidance and Leuenberger's fine lead performance as Nora, whose resolve is coloured by doubt and trepidation, the film never feels stilted or preachy; rather, it radiates an infectious admiration for the courage shown by its heroines in the face of immense obstacles.

December 11, 2017 7:30pm at Tilley Hall, UNB Campus

The Other Side of Hope

100 mins

Finland/Germany, 2017

Finnish, English, Arabic, Swedish w/ English subtitles

Principal Cast: Ville Virtanen, Tommi Korpela, Kati Outinen

Returning with his first feature in six years since his Film Circuit art-house favourite, Le Havre, Finnish master Aki Kaurismäki (The Man Without a Past) delivers what can be considered the second chapter of his Port Cities Trilogy. In his distinctive anachronistic, yet tonally rich style, Kaurismäki paints the unlikely bond between a Syrian refugee and a middle-aged menswear salesman.

Khaled (newcomer Sherwan Haji) worked as a mechanic in Aleppo before fleeing in a coal ship container and accidentally landing on the shores of Helsinki. He emerges from his hiding place covered head to toe in black dust, an alien in an unfamiliar town. Wikstrom (Sakari Kuosmanen, The Man without a Past), deeply unsatisfied with his life, leaves his prickly, alcoholic wife and offloads his remaining stock of men's shirts to fund a career change. After taking a risk at a high-stakes poker game, Wikstrom is presented with a new breath of life that eventually connects and brings both men together in an unpredictable friendship.

Winner of the Silver Bear for Best Director at this year's Berlinale, The Other Side of Hope demonstrates the height of Kaurismäki's auteurial form. Deftly mixing tragedy and wry humour, Kaurismäki builds a story of an unlikely community coming together under difficult circumstances. This idiosyncratic fable on the refugee crisis could not be more humane and timely.

This year 30 limited release, independent foreign and Canadian films will be shown. Admission is $8/film, but a yearly film society membership reduces admission cost to $5/film. The series is open to all. Memberships are available at Tilley 102 every Monday night. For further info, contact NB Film Co-op at 455-1632 or info@nbfilmcoop.com, or visit <http://nbfilmcoop.com/exhibition/monday-night-film-series>. Back to top.
